Dear Shawn:

My assistant, Tony, just brought a typo to my attention -- Righthaven's executed copyright assignments should be returned to me by December 30, 2011, not December 30, 2012 as stated below and in my 12/23/2011 e-mail.

Sorry for any confusion this may have caused.

Regards,

Lara Pearson

Dear Mr. Mangan:

I hope this finds you doing well after an enjoyable long holiday weekend.

I am concerned by your lack of response to my e-mails, especially since none of them have bounced back to me.

As stated in my correspondence of December 22, 2011 and December 23, 2011 (forwarded here). I have provided you with a trademark assignment for the RIGHTHAVEN service mark along with 278 individual copyright assignments for the works registered by Righthaven with the U.S. Copyright Office (assignments attached here as well for your convenience). I have made it as simple as possible for you to complete the court ordered transfer of Righthaven's intellectual property assets, yet it appears that you have not yet taken any action to comply with the court order.

Please have Mr. Gibson execute each one of these copyright assignments before a notary and return the executed assignments to me by close of business on Friday, December 30, 2012.

I asked my assistant, Tony, to call you again today to confirm your receipt of this and my previous correspondence and v-mails.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions.

Thank you.

Lara Pearson

Dear Mr. Manganolaw:

I hope this finds you doing well.

As stated in my correspondence of yesterday (attached here as well for your convenience along with the trademark assignment form), by way of this e-mail I am providing you with two hundred and seventy eight (278) copyright assignments -- one for each of the works in which Righthaven has a registered copyright. Please have Mr. Gibson execute each one of these copyright assignments before a notary and return the executed assignments to me by close of business on Friday, December 30, 2012.

Also, please be advised that I intend to proceed with the auction of <righthaven.com> today. I will send you the press release announcing the auction once it goes live later this afternoon.

I have asked my assistant, Tony, to call you to confirm your receipt of my correspondence.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions.

Thank you.
